—Mr. Page Morgan, of Rockhold, died Sunday after a long illness of lung trouble. He was buried here Monday with Masonic honors.

—Circuit court adjourned Saturday after four weeks' session. Most of the business was civil this term and only one party sent to the penitentiary.

—Our mills secured several thousand logs on the recent tide which will enable them to make a run and give employment to several hundred men for awhile.

—Mrs. J. L. Whitehead entertained quite a number of her young friends Tuesday evening. Mrs. Whitehead understands how to make those who come to see her have a nice time and she certainly did her best on this occasion.

—The Johnson Hall was formally dedicated Sunday afternoon. The services were held in the Baptist church and conducted by Rev. J. N. Prestidge, pastor. Several others took part in the exercises. Mrs. W. J. Johnson, wife of the late W. J. Johnson, was present.

—The Middlesboro Conference of the M. E. church is going to start a religious paper at this place, known as the Methodist News, with Mr. J. D. Henry, the distinguished editor of the Herald, business manager. They have bought a new Campbell press and will be ready to issue their first paper in a short time.

—Mr. M. A. Moore is quite sick at present. He had to have a surgical operation performed Monday. We hope he will soon be out again. Miss Lucy Brock, of London, is visiting her sister, Miss Laura Brock, at the Johnson Hall. Hon. W. J. Caudill, of Barboursville, brought his daughter down to attend school here last week. Judge J. R. Sampson was here Sunday.

—On last Saturday and Sunday the second annual convention of the Tri State Union of the Y. P. S. C. E., was held here. There were about 25 visiting delegates and notwithstanding the bad weather the house was well filled to hear the various discourses and those who had duties assigned them performed them in such a manner as to show that they were greatly interested in the work.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

—A supervisor of printing is the latest new office that the Senate would create.

—A bill to make an indecent exposure of the person a penitentiary offense has been introduced in the House.

—The report of the Superintendent of public instruction shows that his office cost the State $7,718.21 from Sept. '93 to Feb. '94.

—The bill to prohibit the building of barbed wire fence along a public highway was reported adversely and refused a second reading.

—A bill has passed the House, which requires, in certain cases, that the person upon whom rests the burden of proof shall have the opening and closing argument.

—The House judiciary committee reported the bill passed by the Senate increasing the salaries of the judges of the court of appeals to $5,000, without expression of opinion.

—The Kentucky Senate stands, nine Christians, eight Baptists, six Methodists, five Presbyterians, two Episcopalians and one Catholic. Seven are not connected with any church.

—Twenty-two Democratic Senators, all who were present, signed a paper declaring Beckner's resolution ill-advised, and requesting our Senators to freely exercise their judgment in such matters.

—The Senate committee on revenue and taxation decided to report favorably a substitute for the House bill abolishing the State Board of Equalization. It is that the board is to meet only once in five years, is to have no jurisdiction over personal property, and jurisdiction over real estate is to be limited to the State tax, which is now 42½ cents.

—About 170,000 wolves are killed annually in Russia for the fur market.

—At Double Springs, Ala., Geo. Gillis, a young attorney, while acting as pall bearer, lost his balance and fell into the open grave. His head caught between the coffin and a rock in the side of the grave and was crushed to such an extent that he died.

—A tramp called at Mrs. Abner Gerard's, in Crawfordville, Ind., and very rudely demanded a lunch. Mrs. Gerard promptly refused, and the tramp made an insulting remark to her. She flew at him and after a chase of four blocks caught him and beat him within an inch of his life.

SAXBY'S QUARRY TO INGERSOLL.—This beautiful song (words and music regular sheet music size) will be mailed to anyone enclosing 5¢ in stamps to D. G. Edwards, General Passenger Agent, C. H. & D. R. R., Cincinnati, Ohio.

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—Attorney J. D. Parrish, of Richmond was in town Wednesday on professional business.

—There will be preaching at the Christian church Sunday night by Rev. J. R. Terry.

—The Christian Sunday school cleared fifteen dollars on the candy pulling Monday evening.

—Ben F. Evans has been taking depositions this week in his suit against W. H. Fain for slander.

a few of his young friends Wednesday, it being his 9th birth day.

—Wood Brothers' distillery near town commenced operation Monday. Capt. Mike Salter is the "watch."

—The meetings of the Knights of Honor will be held on the first and third Thursday nights in each month.

—Mr. Clell Johnston is in Louisville this week on business. Brown Cogar has located in Lancaster to buy hemp.

—The city council and their attorney Col. L. F. Hubble are at work this week drawing up the new by-laws and ordinances. It's a big job, but they will get through in a few days.

—A negro named Frank Slaughter became violently insane on "battle row" Sunday afternoon and his actions put the denizens of that notorious settlement to flight. He was lodged in jail by Marshal Arnold and tried Tuesday when he was adjudged a lunatic and ordered to be taken to the Lexington Asylum.

—Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Borders drew $100 out of the National Bank. She placed it in an envelope and lost it on the street in a few minutes afterward. The money was found by little Jim Underwood who works in Currey's grocery. He promptly struck out to find the owner, and returned it to her. Mrs. Borders offered him $5 as a reward, but the boy would not take it.

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—Jack Ahern, the boss painter, after some weeks absence, has returned here and is putting the finishing touches on the front of Pierce's new store in the hotel building, counters, wash stands, &c.

—A soiled dove, not yet out of her teens, came very near freezing to death last Sunday night while camping in the school-house. Learning of her critical situation, three philanthropic men carried wood to the school house and built her a fire thus saving her life. A few hours would have proved fatal.

—The wife of Mr. William Lynn met with a serious accident while attending her mother's funeral last Sunday. She and her son were in a spring wagon, and the horse ran away demolishing the vehicle. She was seriously hurt and her son got his leg caught in the spoke of a wheel, and he was unconscious when people went to the rescue. Both are doing well at present.

—Our confirmed old bachelor, Geo. E. Stone, made an interesting find on an ash bank behind the courthouse while emptying a bucket of ashes early one morning a few days since. It was a nice suit of baby clothes. There are considerable suspicions among the people about the matter, but there is no other proof only his own statement that he found the clothes, and we will have to consider him innocent for the present.

—The author of the history of the First-Kentucky Calvary has received from his printer, Prof. R. H. Carothers, of Louisville, several beautiful samples of binding for his book to choose from. After consulting the taste of a number of persons of good judgment both males and females, a deep dove color was selected, with a golden mounted cavalry man on the front side of the cover, and a tent on the other side, with golden title on the back. The prospectus, with sample pages, binding and engravings will soon be out. There is no question but what the mechanical part of the work will be done in splendid style. In regard to the composition and inside material, the author will have to wait for the verdict of bloodthirsty critics.

—Mrs. Mary Wray celebrated her 102d birthday at Fairbury, Ills. Five generations were present, representing 247 years.

—G. N. Henson, President of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company of Chattanooga, shot and killed J. B. Wert, a prominent insurance man of the same city, as they were entering an elevator.

Six months ago Henson filed suit for divorce from his wife, naming Wert as respondent. Owing to the prominence of the parties, the tragedy has caused intense excitement at Chattanooga.

—Frank Scarce, the Lexington lawyer, who was sent up for ten years has a plan on foot being worked by his friends by which he will try to appease the wrath of his victim. It is to make them a cash payment of 35 cents on the dollar for the money he defrauded them of and by this means he hopes to soften their hearts and from mercenary motives secure their endorsement of his petition for executive clemency.

Gooch Started the Report.

(To the Eliz. Interior Journal.)

The card, "To whom it may Concern," from McKinney, being kept in the paper and there being a later card from Mr. Gooch showing that I am the person referred to, I fear that silence on my part would raise the inference that I confess the charge of being the author of an absolute and malicious falsehood. I therefore make this statement: EMPHASITICALLY AND POSITIVELY I have never stated that Mr. S. M. Owens treated out a keg of beer at McKinney on a Sunday afternoon or at any time or place, nor have I circulated or caused to be circulated such report or any similar report.

Mr. Owens stated to me on one occasion that he was making the race for Sheriff on high-toned principles and was treating none whatever, I then told him that Mr. W. H. Gooch had stated in a speech at the Baptist Association, in Waynesburg, that a candidate for a high office in Lincoln county, was in McKinney on the previous Sunday with a keg of beer, and that he appealed to his audience to know if they would support such a man, and that after the adjournment of the meeting I was told what Gooch had said by some one and asked if I was the man referred to in the speech. Mr. Gooch was then out in the crowd, some distance from me and I suggested that we ask the name of the man he referred to. Several of us went to him and some one, probably myself asked if the name of the man to whom he referred was a secret. He replied in the presence of the crowd, "No secret at all. The first letters of his name are Samuel M. Owens." When I told Mr. Owens of the above transaction, he thanked me for the information and said that it was the first time he had heard of the speech or of his being named as the candidate referred to.

There is no dispute about Mr. Gooch making the above statements; if there was such dispute I have sufficient proof in my possession to establish beyond all doubt the fact that he did make them. My friends may rest assured that I have confined myself to the truth up to this time and will do so to the finish.

T. D. NEWLAND.

To the Voters of Lincoln County.

When I left home Jan. 2, I requested the editor of this paper to announce that I would be from home for about 60 days which he promptly did, notice appearing in Friday's issue Jan. 3d. On Monday Jan. 8th, committee met and decided at once to hold primary March 3, making it to suit time of my absence exactly, thereby giving me no opportunity to make even a partial canvass of the county. When I left home I had two car loads of stock, 22 head of my own, balance belonging to my neighbors, still have over 30 head on hand and on a very slow market. If I had any thought committee would have called election so early I would certainly have made different arrangements and remained at home. I had never seen any call from committee to meet or anything of the kind, but I can see nothing in sight now but to remain here until I can close out my stock and leave my interests at home in the hands of my many friends, who I feel confident will do all they can for me. I regret exceedingly that circumstances are such that I cannot be at home, as I am exceedingly anxious to secure the nomination. I have been a democratic voter in Lincoln county for more than 30 years and have never called on the dear people to support me for an office of any kind before and would regret very much to be defeated on the first round. So here I am hoping and fully believing that my friends will come to my relief and that I will secure the nomination by a handsome majority. And in return I promise, if elected to discharge the duties to the very best of my ability. Thanking my many friends for the assurance they have already given me.

I am respectfully,

J. WALKER GIVENS.

A letter postmarked Kolbu, Turkey, for "Mount Vernon, Washington, Skagit, Kountie, Nort Amerika," found its way to this place. The formation of the letters were so unintelligible that the postmaster called a council of war. They finally found where the missive belonged and forwarded it to Washington State.

The East Tennessee Co. has given notice to its employes whose wages were restored on the 1st, of a reduction to take effect on the 10th. This reminds us of some buying and selling of houses and lots that has taken place here within the past few days. Something like boys swapping jackets during the day and going home at night wearing the garment they left home with.

F. L. Heston was up from Dants a few days ago. O. B. Frank, from the Chesapeake & Ohio, is working nights here for ten days. On Monday last our good friend, John McClary, who is so badly afflicted with rheumatism, had the pleasure of visiting his wife, who lately underwent a dangerous surgical operation. She is in a different room of the house, up stairs, and Mr. McClary was carried up by his friends. Mrs. McC. is getting along nicely and is fast recovering. Miss Georgia Creed is visiting friends in Garrard.

James Bangham and wife are down from Madison on a visit. Spears Fisher, of Casey county, was up last week hunting a saddle stallion and will farm J. P. Bland's young horse this season. John G. Austin was here this week showing up a nice line of shoes. He is known as the fat shoe man.

California—the Land of Sunshine, Fruit and Flowers.

The Midwinter Exposition, already much talked of, bids fair to rival the great fair that has just closed at Chicago. Not in size, perhaps, but certainly so in originality, in richness, and in delighted visitors, who will unanimously agree that the Pacific Coast is worth many times the time and money spent to visit it, in its return of delightful climate, mellow sunlight, wondrous growth of vegetation, and the heretofore unheard of network of industries connected with fruit raising, and the shipping of the product.

In order to give an opportunity for everybody to visit this wonderland during the Exposition, California

6 OR 8 PAGES. EVERY FRIDAY.

We do not speak upon absolute authority, but it comes from a reliable source that after the next election, Gov. McCreary will not be in the way of the aspiring gentlemen who think that they could till his seat in Congress more acceptably. He wants to be re-elected next time, however, and will put forth his most earnest efforts to that end, relying on his admirable record and an appreciative constituency, which has always delighted to honor him, to again make him their representative in the National legislature. Gov. McCreary has served us faithfully and well. In point of ability, he is the peer of any member of the Kentucky delegation, and in influence in public affairs away above the best of them. He has the ear of the administration as no other of our Congressmen has and fully as much as either Senator. We have no word to say against either of the estimable gentlemen, who are listening to the Syren voices of the few enemies that the governor has made in the distribution of the offices, who tell them that they can easily defeat him. On the contrary, we have the kindest feelings for each of them, but submit that it might be the part of wisdom to wait one more term, when it is more than likely that Gov. McCreary will be in position to take no part in the contest of the aspirants who have always been his friends.

To an unbiased and unprejudiced mind, it would seem that a man who has done as much for his constituents and his country ought to be permitted to retire voluntarily, especially since he does not propose to stand very long in the way of those who desire to go to Congress. Gov. McCreary's name is connected with more important legislation than any other Kentucky Congressman or any other one man of recent years.

He introduced at this session and had passed after a long struggle the Chinese bill, upon which every republican refused to vote. He made one of the best speeches on the repeal of the Sherman Act and it attracted attention in many States. He is the author of the resolution endorsing the policy of the administration with reference to Hawaii, condemning ex-Minister Stevens' unlawful course and declaring against annexation with that country, which were adopted Wednesday by the full vote of the democrats present. Gov. McCreary is the author of the bill establishing the department of agriculture, of the one to put farming implements on the free list, to provide for a Pan-American Congress, which met in Washington with 16 Republicans represented, and also for a Pan American Medical Congress, which met in Washington last summer.

The land court to settle land claims in New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Montana, under which millions of acres of land have been reclaimed, owes its existence to him, as does the law authorizing the president by retaliation to defend the rights of American fishing vessels and fishermen, which has restored peace and protection to American fishermen in Canadian waters. He is author of the report and resolutions defending the Monroe doctrine and of many other bills of greater or less importance. Gov. McCreary was also appointed by President Harrison as one of the International Monetary Commission at Brussels, the only democrat on it, an honor as great as the recipient is deserving.

This is a record to be proud of and of which his constituents are duly appreciative.

Gov. McCreary has given his entire time and attention to the duties of his office and labored in season, and out of season for his constituents. He has secured more offices for his district, than any other Congressman and done more for those who have asked his assistance than any other man could have done. All his recommendations for office have been good and it is only the disappointed and their friends, and they are not numerous, who are trying to create the impression that there is opposition to him in the district.

The present does not appear to be the proper time to swap horses and it is to be hoped that those who are contemplating a candidacy for Congress will look well before they leap. Gov. McCreary has never yet been beaten before the people, and he has given them no cause to turn their backs on him now.

The announcement is made that Dave Smith has withdrawn from the race for Congress in the 4th district. Like the ground hog, Dave did not realize how ugly he is until he saw his picture in the papers. Then he went back into his hole, pulled it in after him, and let us hope will always remain it.

The Mid-winter Fair at San Francisco will run into a mid-summer affair. It will not close till August. Those who can spare the time and money will probably never have a better chance to visit the Golden Coast, as the railroads offer unusual inducements.

NATURAL GAS is mighty nice for heating and cooking purposes, and we have seen kitchens that use it look as neat and as nice as parlors. It doesn't always behave itself as nicely, however, as it looks. When the weather gets very cold the pressure gets so low that in some instances it becomes valueless at the time it is most needed. Then again, it frequently goes on a tear and death and destruction follows. An explosion of it at Indianapolis in the home of Louisa Kenchler, killed and wounded five of his children and demolished the house. There is no sweet without its bitter. The old coal stove and wood fireplace may be less tidy and more troublesome, but after all they are not to be sneezed at for safety and certainty.

The Senatorial dead lock in Mississippi was broken by the election of Hon. A. J. McLaurin to succeed U. S. Senator Walther. He was born in 1848 and notwithstanding his youth, he served awhile in the Confederate army. Returning he worked on his father's farm in the day time and studied by a pine knot light at night. His ability and worth were soon recognized and he obtained a lucrative law practice, afterwards being elected to the Legislature, the Constitutional convention and the district attorneyship. The worst thing that can be said of him is that he is an uncompromising advocate of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and won the fight on that platform.

A NEW YORK paper having classed Col. Silas Adams with the democrats who voted against the Wilson Bill, the Louisville Times says the mistake is natural as nobody would suspect that there is a republican in the Kentucky delegation. The Colonel is there solely by reason of the fact that he served a long term in the Kentucky Legislature without once opening his mouth. In admiration and gratitude the grand old Commonwealth sent him to Washington, but with the expectation that he would be placed among the ethnological freaks in the Smithsonian Institute. The Silent Silas has merely got into the wrong box.

Mr. Monk, a rapid rad from Massachusetts, exhibited such symptoms of hydrophobia in the discussion of the Hawaiian question, that he had to be called down. He referred to the supporters of the Administration as the "cuckoos in the House and Senate" who were obeying "the command of their master, the great Grover Cleveland." His words were declared unparliamentary, and he was about to be brought up for censure when he withdrew his foolish remarks. Boutelle also bluffed and bounded but his words fell harmless and created no applause.

DAN SICKLES, the New York Congressman who has long ago outlived his usefulness, if indeed there was ever any well defined reason for his existence, was the only democrat who had the hardihood to vote against the McCreary resolutions on the Hawaiian matter. The final vote stood 177 to 75, and then the Boutelle resolutions arraigning the president was defeated 161 to 91. We wish we could say that this ends the matter, but many a weary day will come and go before we can.

If the Legislature intends to pass all the bills that have been dumped into its hopper, it will have to get a move on itself and hustle as no other body of the kind ever did. It is now going down the last half of its journey and yet but 11 bills have been passed by both Houses of the 437 introduced. Somebody, and he will be numerous, is going to get left on his pet measure. Only 27 days remain of the session, and the governor has said emphatically that he will not extend it.

MR. WATTERSON has been in New York talking through his hat. He says that Mr. Cleveland is more of a master than a leader and takes occasion to try to demonstrate that if he was elected over his protest, it would perhaps have been just as well for the party if he had not. It is very hard, if not an absolute impossibility, to convince a man against his will and Mr. Watterson is no exception. He will always be of the same opinion still.

THE Henderson Journal credits us with the authorship of the "pomp" in which the lines appear. "The hed bug has no wings at all, but he gets there all the same." One friend is mistaken. The late, lamented Ed Colgan is entitled to whatever of honor may attach to the production, which has almost become a "classic."

The next pension agent for Kentucky will be Col. Mat Adams or Mr. Northup. Secretary Hoke Smith would not decide between the two, but sent the papers of both to the president, who will likely announce his decision in a day or two. He is thought to be favorable to our Mat.

The fellow who grinds out the poetry for the Tattler column of the Louisville Times is another proof of the Latin adage, poeta nascetur non fit, and he is welcome to take the allusion as complimentary, if he doesn't think he is not fit to be a poet.

THE Middlesboro Belt Line Railroad and the Water Works of the defunct Magic City are to be sold. Now's your chance to get the two for a nickel.

THE bill to repeal the obnoxious Federal election laws, which the republicans passed to throttle the voice of the South, only needs the president's signature to make it a law, the Senate having passed it at last by a vote of 39 to 28. One republican, Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, and the populist Senators, Kyle, Feffer and Allen, voted with the democrats.

COL. SILAS ADAMS got mixed up on the questions of substitutes, amendments and things connected with the Hawaiian affair, and voted for the McCleary resolutions. When he discovered his mistake he asked to be allowed to correct his vote, but he was not granted the privilege. The colonel should keep his eye skinned.

The directors of the Kentucky Trotting Association at Lexington decided to hold a meeting on June 3, 4 and 5. Good purses will be offered.

As administrator of J. S. Hays, I will sell at public outcry on next Monday, county court day, a combined bay gelding. Terms cash. E. Reid.

The great sire of fast horses, George Wilkes, was brought in at the Lexington sale for the sum of $4,000. This goes to show that horses are low.

Highland Farm in Fayette, containing 675 acres, has been rented to Brasfield & Samuels for the next sum of $1,700 per year. It is the home of Red Wilkes.

Squire Murphy, who is authority on the subject, says that the cold weather of January 24 and 25, killed only a portion of the cherries and peaches and did no damage to the other fruits.

D. B. Patton and David Tate sold about 1,500 bushels of wheat to Cynthia, and weighing 500 pounds, was found dead in bed. Her coffin was made to order and was four and a half feet broad.

At Latrobe, Pa., Godfrey May, proprietor of two large dry goods stores, seriously shot his wife because she refused to indorse a check, and then suicided by shooting himself.

The large Birmingham Rolling Mill, owned in Louisville, will resume operations next Monday, giving employment to about 1,000 men. They have been closed since last July.

The depreciation in the value of horse flesh is shown in the fact that Editor F. D. Spotswood, of Harrodsburg, sold at the Lexington sales four fine thoroughbreds for a little over $1,000 that cost him not very long ago over $3,000.

Gay Bros., of Woodford, have engaged the services of Sam D. Hinkle, Jr., of Lexington, to handle their saddlers. Gay Bros., it will be remembered, won the sweepstakes saddle stallion premiums at the fair here with their fine three year-old, Highland Denmark.

The horse season is nearly here again and these lines are printed to remind the owners of stallions and jacks that the Lexington JOURNAL will be in the ring this year with a new lot of pictures and everything to enable it to supply all their wants in best manner and at the lowest figures. Make a note of the primary.

A dispatch from Leadville, Colo., says that in one hour one man took $7,000 worth of gold ore from the new strike at Farnum Hill, about 25 miles from there. The largest nugget weighed 78 ounces.

The trial of Coughlin for the murder of Dr. Cronin at some forgotten date during the present century, has entered upon its fourth month's run at Chicago and bids fair to outwind the tariff debate in Congress.

John and Will Turner attacked Dr. Will Nolin at Harlan C. H., but they will never do so any more. He killed them both and didn't get a scratch himself. His brother killed two men the same way a few years ago.

A meeting of the coal operators of Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama has been called to take action regarding the legislation in the National Coal concerning coal. It is proposed that the meeting shall be held at Knoxville, Tenn., February 13.

Capt. J. L. Bowman, one of the best-known men in Eastern Kentucky, was shot and instantly killed in a sensational street duel at Mt. Sterling, with Recycler H. Clay Turner, of the Montgomery county circuit court, and of two of Turner's friends. The trouble grew over the alleged fact that Turner had alienated the affections of Bowman's wife and broken up his home.

SURE CURE FOR LOVE.—A love-lorn and lonely little maiden requests the publication of the following cure for love: Take 12 ounces of dislike, 1 pound of resolution, 2 grains of common sense, about 2 grains of experience, a large sprig of thyme, and 3 quarts of the cooling water or consideration. Set over the gentle fire of love, sweeten with the sugar of forgetfulness, skim with the spoon of melancholy, put in the bottom of your heart and cork with the cork of a clear conscience. Let it remain and you will quickly find ease and be restored to your senses. These things can be had at the house of understanding, next door to reason on Prudent street in the village of Contentment.

WHILE fording Logan's Creek on his way to Duddler's Mill with four sacks of corn, the water swept the wagon of Jim Warren away and he had to swim for dear life. The horses got loose and swam out and the wagon lodged against an obstruction, but the corn has not been seen since.

THE Superior Court has reversed the decision of the Knox Circuit court giving a section hand damages against the L. & N. for getting hurt by a hand car which had a defective brake handle, because the man knew of the defect and was therefore guilty of contributory negligence. J. W. Alcorn and Wilson & Rawlings represented the railroad.

"H." PANDLETON, who has withdrawn from the race for jailer, took a very sensible view of the surroundings. With a friend and a supporter of his, he spent an entire afternoon polling the county on his vote. After the job was completed he found that he could count with certainty on only 13. As this was an unlucky number he wisely concluded to let the matter drop then and there.

MRS. POKER T. COURTS, after four years of service retires from the post-office with the good will of everybody. She has done well and fully demonstrated that she is a woman of remarkable capacity. The INTERIOR JOURNAL acknowledges many favors at her hands which it duly appreciates and holds itself ready to reciprocate whenever opportunity offers. Miss Effie Warren, her excellent assistant, is also deserving of praise, and it gives us pleasure to extend it.

In speaking of Edward Baxter Perry, who is to give a piano recital and musical lecture at Walton's Opera House, Feb. 17, the Philadelphia Times says: Mr. Perry has emphatically disproved the disheartening statement so often made, that there is little field for piano music in America. He has talents as a lecturer which perhaps could not be found united to extreme musical attainments in another instance throughout the country; and the lecture recital, originated by him, affords ample scope for his rare gifts in both lines.

BODY FOUND.—We are indebted to Chief Train Dispatcher, W. F. Sheridan for the following dispatch: The remains of E. A. Sanner, who disappeared near Big Stone Gap, Jan. 3d, were found by a little boy Tuesday in Cumberland river near the point where his hat was picked up in the river at Olinger, Va., by a searching party. Grabs were sent from Louisville and everything done in time to recover remains without result. Large crowd of friends left Middleboro Wednesday to prepare the remains for shipment to his home at Philadelphia.

KILLED.—A dispatch says that W. B. Comer, one of the contractors for the King Mountain tunnel, was killed by an explosion near Lockport, Ill., Tuesday, where he had a contract on the Chicago Drainage Canal. His remains were brought to Danville.

THE skyls have been leaky for several days but clear and colder weather is promised to-day.

COL. CRADDOCK, of the Paris Kentuckian puns as follows: The republican postmaster of Stanford has been Rout-ed. Tuesday Mrs. Courts courteously transferred to Mr. Rout.

The article on the I. O. O. F., which appears on the 4th page is not an advertisement. We print it of our own accord because of the great good the order has done here and the liberal way it has dealt in all its transactions.

THE members of the democratic county committee are requested to meet at the court-house, Monday at 11 A. M. for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements for the primary election of March 3d. R. E. Gentry, Chairman.

SOLD OUT.—John W. Carrier has sold his stock of whiskies and bar fixtures to Howland to Albert Hommel who will continue the business. Mr. Carrier has moved to Richmond, where he will keep a boarding house. Afterwards Mr. Isaac Hamilton got out an attachment on the goods for a debt Mr. Carrier owed him and as a consequence Mr. Hommel will not continue the business.

THE change in the postoffice has been accomplished with the friction reduced to the minimum, and the indications are that P. M. Rout will run things, if not according to Hoyle, according to law. Mrs. Courts is giving him all the points necessary and Miss Effie Warren occasionally lends helping hand. Miss Sue Rout, the new assistant, had some experience under the old administration, which she is bringing into play and is "catching on" rapidly.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL acknowledges the following from Sheriff J. C. Colson, of Bell county, "You are hereby extended an invitation to be present at the execution of Robert Marler at Pineville, Feb. 9, 1894. E. C. Walton has accepted the invitation and left for the guinea scene this morning. All the arrangements have now been completed, the governor has finally refused to interfere, the rope has been tested with a 200 pound bag of sand and nothing now remains but to tie it around Marler's neck and send him to Kingdom come. Sheriff Colson will officiate and not delegate his duties to another. The next I. J. will have a full account of the business.

SOME TIME ago a young fellow who represented himself as Frank Brown worked the check racket on Farris & Hardin, getting $24.25 in cash and a razor. The check had the name of Green Woodcock to it and purported to be for steers. The identity of the young scamp has been disclosed. He is Charley Jones, better known as Tobe, and is a son of Charles Jones, a worthy citizen of Boyle, who is an old friend of Mr. Farris, and who agreed to refund the money as soon as he can. The identification was made by Mr. T. D. Newland, who went with Mr. Farris to Danville Wednesday. The young man denied his guilt, but came near weakening when Mr. Newland asserted so positively that he was the one. He is said to be "lighty," and for this reason and others, Mr. Farris declined to get out a warrant for him.

THE other night two shots which sounded as loud as the report of a cannon rent the air, and a crowd was soon rushing in the direction from whence they came, to find Jim Mershon, special policeman, with a smoking gun so excited he could hardly articulate. When he could catch his breath sufficiently, he said that he had been employed to guard a car load of coal and that a negro with a sack had come to help himself. He ordered him off but the man refusing to go let loose a charge of bird shot at him. That started him and as he ran the other load was sent at him, which Jim says knocked him a double somersault and made him drop his hat and sack. A certain negro was suspicious but it was found that it was not he and no clew has yet been found to the identity of the would-be coal thief.

NOTRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—John Yufer, a widower of 37, and Miss Pauline Cihauer were made one yesterday. He is from Switzerland, she from Germany.

—Next Sunday near Waynesburg Mr. Daniel Jacobs who is 47 and a widower, will lead Miss Lucy McMullen, a pretty maiden of 22 to the hymenal altar.

—A Columbus, O., man has instituted divorce proceedings against his wife, because she prefers to sit up all night in the kitchen to occupying the same apartment with him.

—Mrs. Cecilia Livers, of Simpson county, has been convicted of bigamy. She is only 18 and has been married to the fourth husband within the last two years, without having secured divorce.

—A Toledo man is suing the same woman the third time for divorce. He always marries her again a few months after being legally separated from her. This time the court ought to sentence him to live with her the rest of his natural life.

—President Harrison says he is not going to marry Mrs. Leland Stanford, widow of the California many millionaire, and Mrs. Stanford says she is not going to marry the ex-president, so it is natural to suppose that they will not marry. Mr. Harrison leaves to-day to deliver a course of law lectures in Stanford University in California.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. Ben Helm will preach at the Presbyterian church at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sunday.

—The Western Recorder pays Rev. John A. Broaddus a cent a word for everything he writes for it.

—The new Presbyterian church in Henderson will probably be the finest in every respect in the State of Kentucky, the Louisville churches not excepted.

—Lent began Wednesday but as there are only one Catholic and less than a dozen Episcopalians in town, it will be remarkable more for the bread than the observance.

—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage will preach his last sermon in the Brooklyn Tabernacle on the first Sunday in March, a few weeks after which he will leave with his family for the Orient.

—In the injunction case to prevent the Methodist Conference from removing Wesleyan College from Millersburg to Winchester, the United States Supreme Court decided for the Conference, and the school will remain at Winchester, where it was located some time ago.

—The St. Louis Globe Democrat shows that a great religious revival has been sweeping over the country. Its carefully gathered statistics show that the number of converts allying themselves with the various evangelical churches in the States of Missouri, Illinois, Kansas, Arkansas and Texas, and estimates that since September 1, 1893, there have been 40,010 conversions.

—The Christian Federation or Prohibition church, which was to have been organized Feb. 4, at Chicago was postponed to March 4. The object of the new church shall be to furnish a church home for those whose convictions lead them in this direction. An organization that will mother every righteous reform, and while opposing the union of Church and State, will not hesitate to assert its God-given authority to censure wrong doing, in corporations, in legislative halls and the ballot box where the citizens sets the stamp of his sovereign approval or disapproval upon the acts of men and parties. It is intended to be local, state and national. Its creed will be Christ; its authority, God's Word; its work, the salvation of souls, salvation from sin and the salvation of our country. For further information those interested are asked to address Rev. J. W. Willis, 6 and 8 N. LaSalle Ave., Chicago.

—It is reported that a great many counterfeit dimes are in circulation. They are new and bright and described as being good counterfeits, except that they are very light in weight and give a glassy sound when struck.

—The New Orleans carnival was inaugurated with a flow of blood. Four murders in one evening is a proof of the gaiety of the metropolis of New Orleans. The Kentuckians there experienced a kind of home-like feeling.

—The last words of Valliant, the Paris bomb-thrower, were: "Death to Society; long live Anarchy!" He refused to services of a priest and said he would have nothing to do with religion or any of its adherents. His head wasn't cut off too quickly.
